

Encouraging Words Campaign

One way Family Service is celebrating its 175th anniversary is by inviting you to share your words of encouragement to an individual or family in our programs going through a difficult time. Also, if you are looking for some encouragement or a message of hope in your own life, please feel free to browse through the submissions below for some positive messages.

We are asking our friends and supporters to submit words of appreciation and encouragement that may be enough to provide hope to someone that today will be better than yesterday. The inspiration may come from your own life experience - struggles of loss, single parents, depression, divorce, abandonment, abuse, substance abuse. What carried you through those challenges? What words of wisdom and hope do you have for families in our community during tough times?

It is simple. Just send your Encouraging Words by using the below comment form and we'll make sure your words get to those who are in our programs. Note, If you would like to submit your encouraging words through email instead of our comment form, please email your encouraging words to info@family-service-inc.org
